A Statement of His Involves the President and Secretary Carlisle.

THE SUGAR TRUST'S CONTRIBUTIONS

One File Went to the Anti-Snappers and Another to the Democratic Campaign Fund—Some Names Withheld.

Washington, May 24.—The senatorial bribery committee this morning took up the sugar trust feature of its investigation. It was decided to do this after a long discussion among the members of the committee and the first witness called was E. J. Edwards, better known as "Holland," the New York correspondent of The Philadelphia Press. It was Mr. Edwards who made the original allegations that a deal had been made between members of the sugar trust and certain democratic senators by which the trust was to be provided for more liberally in the bill.

Mr. Edwards was questioned particularly with reference to his statements in The Press that Secretary Carlisle had participated in a conference when the sugar schedule of the tariff bill was amended with the demand of the sugar trust, and that the trust had contributed to the democratic campaign fund in consideration of a promise that its interests should be protected.

"The place to fight for democratic principles is in the democratic party. It is upon this principle we expect the conference to proceed."

There is no doubt that this convention will be the most successful and enthusiastic meeting of the democrats ever held in this state.

counsel for Edwards, will probably make an argument before the committee on this matter.

THE SILVER DEMOCRATS.

A Call Issued for a State Convention in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., May 24.—(Special)—Today a call was issued to the free silver democrats of Nebraska signed by 250 of the most prominent of the party, calling for a meeting at Omaha, June 21st, to organize a Nebraska democratic free coinage league. Among the leaders to this call are N. B. Falcone, the leading dry goods merchant of Omaha, two of whose minnows in 1892, and others of equal importance. Congressmen Blane and Bryan will be present to address the convention.

The preamble says: "We believe that the question of restoration of the double standard of gold and silver a money of ultimate redemption and standard of money is now one of the foremost issues in the minds of the voters of Nebraska; and that the change from the double to the single standard is, has been, and will continue to be until reversed, a grievous wrong to the people of Nebraska. We, believing that nine-tenths of the democrats of Nebraska so feel, and that they have not always been fairly represented on the subject by the democratic conventions of Nebraska, and we further believe that the time has come when the welfare of the party in this state imperatively demands a plain statement of the party on this question."

The administration democrats were utterly confounded by this call. They did not believe that such an organized movement was possible. C. J. Smith, one of the prominent signers said, among other things:

"The place to fight for democratic principles is in the democratic party. It is upon this principle we expect the conference to proceed."

There is no doubt that this convention will be the most successful and enthusiastic meeting of the democrats ever held in this state.

THE AMENDMENTS DEFEATED

And the Legislative Bill Passed by the House.

Washington, May 24.—Two-and-a-half minutes were devoted by the house to bills on the private calendar and to committee reports. Then consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills was begun. The bill to appropriate $1,000,000 for the reorganization of the treasury department was passed.

The reading of the bill, indicating that the bill had been amended by the committee on the civil service commission was resumed at every opportunity.

Mr. Alderson, democrat of West Virginia, moved to omit the civil service commission from the list of bureaus whose contingent expenditures were provided for under the bill.

RELEASED THE BOY.

Young Edmondson Escapes the Charge of Murder and Goes Home.

HE WAS MILES AWAY FROM OLIVER

Bibb County's Commissioners Make Approval for the Public Schools.

Figures on the Order of Toni.

MACON, Ga., May 24.—(Special)—Hon. Robert Hodges returned this morning from Sylvan with his nephew, Samuel F. Edmondson, the young man who was arrested in Oliver, Screen county, Georgia, for the Jackson murder. The young man had been placed in the Sylvan jail to await the action of the grand jury. Mr. Hodges revisited there upon Monday and found that the young man had been discharged by the justice of the peace upon his commitment trial in the murder case, but for his own safety the justice thought best to bind him over for carrying out some weapons to him for carrying out some of the citizens of Oliver had lost their heads and wanted to revenge the murder of Mr. Jackson. The evidence in the murder case disclosed that at the time of the murder young Edmondson was several miles away from the scene of the murder, and upon investigating the case, the justice, Hon. Henry D. Evans, refused to present the case to the grand jury. Upon the charge of carrying concealed weapons, Judge Roger L. Gamble fined the young man $5 and costs.

Other parties have been arrested by the citizens of Oliver charged with this offense, a negro and a white man who were in Oliver at the time the offense was committed, and an intimate friend of the deceased Mr. Jackson. There is no direct evidence against him and the citizens of the community are as much at sea as to who committed the murder. The negro was released, but it is not known whether he was released by someone who is familiar with the locality, the situation and the habits of the deceased, Mr. Jackson. There was not the slightest evidence to connect young Edmondson with the three negroes, who were arrested with him with this offense, and the suffering endured by the young man in Oliver is hardly sufficient punishment for his tramping escapade.

The Toni Collapse.

The announcement in the Constitution to-day of the collapse of the order of Toni was a surprise to many in Macon. The members of the order here are not well informed as to the causes of the collapse or the extent of the trouble. As a matter of general information to the public, the following information received from the home office, Philadelphia, by Secretary A. F. Parratt, secretary of the Goodey Lodge, Macon, will be read with interest: The Order of Toni assigned to the Land Title, Trust Company and Shultz Brothers. The assets are estimated at $50,000. The parties bringing the bill are all members in good standing.

To show the hopeless insolvency of the order, several hundred certificates, providing for the payment of sums ranging from $200 to $1,000, have matured since May 21st instant, requiring in the aggregate the sum of $250,000, and these have not been paid, nor is there any sufficient fund upon which the order can draw.

Dr. Rosebro wanted both reports and offered an amendment harmonizing them, which was objected to, and the objection was sustained.

Dr. Converse gave notice that if the majority was defeated he would move to adopt Brother Rosebro's amendment.

A vote was then taken on the minority report.

Dr. McCutcheon said the question was how to bring the law and the practice under the law together. It could and should be done, and the presbyteries should exercise their power.

Dr. Rosebro wanted both reports and offered an amendment harmonizing them, which was objected to, and the objection was sustained.

Dr. Converse moved that the language of the Mecklenburg overture be sent down to the presbyteries.

Dr. Harrison opposed the motion and it was referred to a committee composed of Drs. McCutcheon, Rosebro and Lytle.

It was then agreed to take up the Saddle Meats case tonight.

CANDLER THE MAN. IN THE RACE AGAIN.

Governor Norton Makes Another Appointment for Secretary of State.

JUDGE SAM HARRIS DECLINES IT

The Ninth's Ex-Congressman, Known as "The Plowboy of Pigeon Roost," Is Surprised at the Offer.

The appointment of Colonel Allen D. Candler of Gainesville, as secretary of state, is applauded everywhere, and the governor is receiving showers of congratulations from everybody upon so excellent a service to the state.

Colonel Candler, the governor received word from Judge Samuel W. Harris that he would not accept the office which the governor had tendered him the day before. Judge Harris gave no particular reason, but his friends all say that the cause of his refusal to accept the office was that he will run for Congress from the fourth district and that he thinks he can easily win.

Whatever may have been his reason, the governor accepted the situation as it presented itself.

After the card had been received at the office Mr. Martin was sought by a Constitution reporter.

"The card," said the gentleman, in reply to a question, "explains itself fully. I withdrew from the race because I wanted to be out of politics, and it was the best thing to do. I have no desire to be a candidate again."

Mr. Martin's announcement was made yesterday in a card which he sent to The Constitution.

That card, which is here given, speaks for itself.

Mr. Edmund W. Martin, of Atlanta, Georgia, has been appointed for state senator from the thirty-fifth senatorial district.

Colonel Candler, the governor received word from Judge Samuel W. Harris that he would not accept the office which the governor had tendered him the day before. Judge Harris gave no particular reason, but his friends all say that the cause of his refusal to accept the office was that he will run for Congress from the fourth district and that he thinks he can easily win.

Whatever may have been his reason, the governor accepted the situation as it presented itself and proceeded with the task of appointing the new secretary of state to fill the place made vacant by the death of the late General Phil Cook.

The governor received delegations to call on him during the forenoon and the governor was a very busy man all day. He heard what each of the delegations had to say for this man or that and gave due consideration to their applications.

Just before the noon hour, Colonel Allen D. Candler, who came to the city on private business, was entering the dining room at the Markham house for dinner, when suddenly a friend came up to him and asked: "Colonel, if you were appointed secretary of state would you accept?"

The colonel's first impulsive answer was "No."

"Why?" asked his friend.

"Simply because I haven't thought of such a thing," replied Colonel Candler. "I am no applicant for the office. The government is not asking me to do anything for the sake of the party, but I have to do it."

Colonel Candler has thought the matter over, has been appointed and will accept.

OATES IN ATLANTA.

Hon. E. W. Martin Is a Candidate for State Senator.

HE MAKES THE ANNOUNCEMENT

His Withdrawal Had Caused His Friends to Urge Him to Re-enter the Race. What He Says.

Hon. E. W. Martin is in the race for state senator from the thirty-fifth senatorial district.

When the present political campaign was quite young Mr. Martin, who has served Fulton county in the legislature most acceptably for two terms, four years, announced himself as a candidate for state senator. The announcement was a source of much pleasure to Mr. Martin's many friends, who went to work at once for him.

But a month ago Mr. Martin decided to withdraw from the race, and his re-entry will cause a political sensation and bring out his friends again.

Mr. Martin's announcement was made yesterday in a card which he sent to The Constitution.

That card, which is here given, speaks for itself.

After the card had been received at the office Mr. Martin was sought by a Constitution reporter.

"The card," said the gentleman, in reply to a question, "explains itself fully. I withdrew from the race because I wanted to be out of politics, and it was the best thing to do. I have no desire to be a candidate again."

THOSE WHO WENT

To the Exposition at Chicago

The wonderful exhibition made by the Libby Glass Company. This was considered one of the most interesting displays there. The wonderful process of cutting glass was shown in all its details.

The Libby Company are acknowledged to be the most skillful cutters of glass in the world. The purity and brilliancy of their glass and the artistic effects of their cutting has easily put their work far ahead of all other makes. To say that cut glass "is as good as Libby's" means the highest claim that competitors aspire to, hence it is that the Libby make is a household word in this country.

J. P. Stevens & Bro. are sole agents in Atlanta for this glass. They show the largest stock to be seen in this city and their prices are acknowledged the lowest.

CAUGHT THE BURGLAR

A Thief Trapped in the House He Was Trying to Burglarize.

HE TRIED HARD TO GET AWAY

But Was Surrounded and Guarded Until Detective Wootten Appeared—Other
Police News of a Day.

A burglar who believes that the early bird catches the worm, but who learned that the early bird often gets caught, attempted to burglarize the residence of Mr. Albert L. Beck, 711 Peachtree street, last night. He was surprised suddenly by finding himself locked in the room he was fast emptying of the most valuable of its contents.

And a little later he found himself at the police station.

As early as 7:30 o'clock last night the burglar who gave his name to Station Housekeepers, who had entered a rear room in Mr. Beck's residence. He was discovered by a servant, whose attention was attracted by the noise. With Mr. Beck the servant ran up to the room. The burglar was taken by surprise, but he dashed off and ran into a room adjoining. He made for a window, but could not get out, and was held a prisoner and a telephone message sent to police headquarters. Detective Wootten was sent out and found the negro servant guarding the door of the room in which the burglar was kept a prisoner. The determined guard held an ax and held his right hand over the head of the burglar to see if he would not get out.

He was held a prisoner and a telephone message sent to police headquarters. Detective Wootten brought the burglar out with but little trouble.

Among the articles with which the burglar had laden himself were three suits of clothes.

To Find Her Baby.

Between laughter and tears Minnie Bankston told a story to the officers at police headquarters yesterday which, despite the efforts of dissipation in it, was tinged with pathos.

Her laughter was a sorry attempt to hide her feelings; tears were the true expression of what she felt. She is a young woman not past twenty-five. She would be pretty but for the lines of depravity on her face.

Three nights ago she was arrested by Patrolmen Dorrian and Manning. At the time of her arrest she was held in a cell in which a negro woman named Wyly had beaten her with an iron rod in a most unmerciful manner. The alleged beating occurred at her home in the eastern part of the city and when the officers entered the room where the difficulty occurred they found half of the furniture in state.

Both were arrested. The next day in police court Minnie Bankston swore that she had done up the furniture and that Wyly had done the same.

She was sent to the city stockade and Wyly was released. He did not pay her fine.

Yesterday, after being out at the stockade for a few hours, he escaped by breaking the bars of the guard's cell.

A notice was posted at police headquarters instructing the officers to arrest her.

A few hours later Wyly requested Patrolman Dorrian to arrest her, saying that she had returned and was drunk. The officer found her in a state of semi-intoxication and she was held in a cell.

To the officers she said that she left the city stockade because Wyly had beaten her with an iron rod in a most unmerciful manner.
